

VenettiCop4Life: Mr. Nadler?

Jaynad85: who is this?

VenettiCop4Life: this is Officer Lou Gerig, we spoke last semester, you gave me your email address, i was wondering if you recieved the email we sent you

Jaynad85: the one with the pictures of the guy? i did not receive it

VenettiCop4Life: we just got our computers up and running again this evening and we're trying to get in touch with everyone we emailed to see if they recieved them

VenettiCop4Life: a perpatrator managed to hack into our system and made it so we couldnt use any of the mouses to the computers, it was a hassle and half, let me tell you

Jaynad85: i see. i didn't receive the e-mail though.

Jaynad85: it doesn't really matter. there have been no more disturbances in my dorm room since the incident last November

VenettiCop4Life: ok we're going to try and send it over sometime this week

Jaynad85: that's fine

VenettiCop4Life: we were wondering if theres a good time during the week where we could possible come to your room and speak to about a matter we think you could help us with

Jaynad85: sure. either wednesday or thursday

VenettiCop4Life: alright, during which hours would you be available?

Jaynad85: on wednesday after 10 PM or thursday after 5 PM

VenettiCop4Life: alright, is there a number we can reach you at, just to confirm

Jaynad85: i'll have my cell phone, but depending where i am i may or may not have good service

VenettiCop4Life: do you have a dorm phone

Jaynad85: not anymore. my roommate from last semester moved out and took the phone with him. my new roommate and i never set up the phone in our room again

VenettiCop4Life: do you have one that you could set up, it would just be easier since the cellphone service can often cut in and out and we cant afford to spare precious time waiting for the service to bne clear while peoples lives are at stake

Jaynad85: sure. i'll get one and try to set it up in my room after my first class on wednesday.

VenettiCop4Life: you could ask your roommate if he has one to bring or bring one yourself, we dont want you to have to go out of your way to purchase a phone

Jaynad85: i work in a place that sells them. i can get one tomorrow

VenettiCop4Life: ah so you can get a deal?

Jaynad85: yes, a 20% discount

VenettiCop4Life: not bad

VenettiCop4Life: my wife works at shoprite and they let her take free gum, its the good things in life that make you smile, am i right?

Jaynad85: definately

VenettiCop4Life: well have a nice evening

VenettiCop4Life: and dont forget to lock that door stunad, we dont want another incident over there

Jaynad85: will you know my dorm number when you need to call it?

VenettiCop4Life: yes we have it in the computers

VenettiCop4Life: i believe your extension is 5158?

Jaynad85: i think so

VenettiCop4Life: well, goodnight john

Jaynad85: goodnight
